

Lock out all intruders, even the microscopic ones.

Many access points in critical infrastructure are exposed to the elements. Dust, sand, grime, and moisture could get inside the lock cylinder, risking equipment failures. Workers visiting the location might find themselves locked out, disrupting your access control system and costing you money.

Reduce the risk of failures caused by dust and moisture.

ABLOY USA Critical Infrastructure offers a unique solution. The IP54-rated Integrated Dust Cover with an internal shield is now available for nearly the entire line of ABLOY mechanical and PROTEC2 CLIQ cylinders. ABLOY is the only manufacturer that offers this option on such a wide variety of products.

ABLOY has you covered. Against even the smallest intruders.

The Integrated Dust Cover has a spring-loaded shutter which greatly reduces the chances the lock cylinder is exposed to dust and water. The shutter blocks the keyway opening, increasing the reliability of mechanical cylinders, and protecting the CLIQ electronics and contact points inside the keyway. As the key is removed, the spring-loaded dust cover snaps closed.

Integrated Dust Covers greatly improve the life, durability, and functionality of products for critical infrastructure. Facility managers with power plants, substations, water utilities, and remote locations under their control will benefit from the added reliability and convenience. In the long run, it is a more affordable option than paying for maintenance kits to clean locks.

The solution is now available for Key-In-Knob and Key-In-Lever applications, such as the ABLOY CYLP410T replacement cylinder for specific Schlage deadbolts and the CYLP412T complete deadbolt with thumbturn. It is also available for ABLOY CLIQ Cam locks and all Mortise, LFIC and Euro Din cylinders.

ABLOY USA Critical Infrastructure is the only security system provider that offers the Integrated Dust Cover on so many products. Contact your ABLOY sales representative or distribution channel partner for more information.
