

Professional AV Solutions

Ingenuity delivered.

Ingenuity delivered.

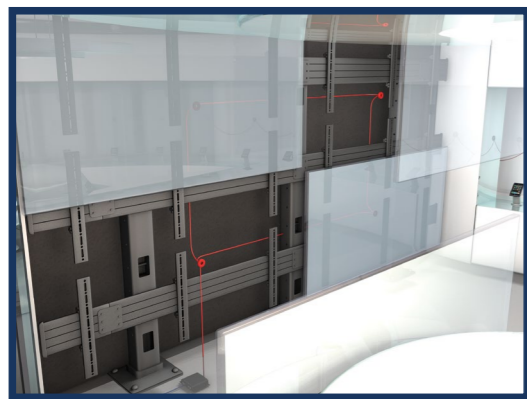

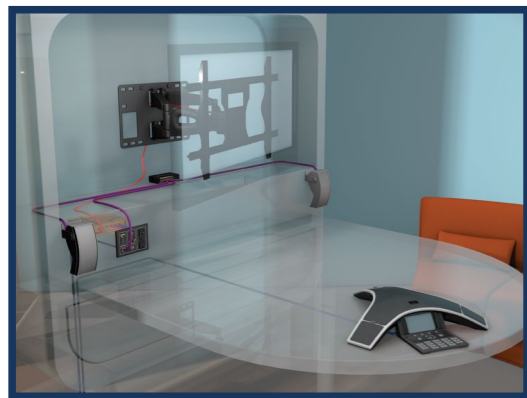

Today's digitally focused employees and customers want rich audio/visual experiences to engage audiences, boost productivity and deliver immersive experiences in the most powerful and productive way. Professional AV solutions into multiple applications is the latest step in the evolution of building performance, security and sustainability. This evolution will require full IP-based networks in order to sustain the complex systems integrations across the building.

Professional AV on IP Networks

This is being made possible by the migration of audio/visual systems to the IP network. With new standards such as HDBaseT and Dante driving this migration, organisations are investing additional resources to make sure their buildings can retain tomorrow's workforce. Coupled with regulatory requirements around mass notification for emergency events, the complexity and need of professional AV in the workplace is only going to increase in importance.

Technical Specifications

HDBaseT enables the distribution of high-definition audio and video, USB, Ethernet, controls and up to 100 watts of power over a single Category 6A cable up to 100 meters (328 feet). By using a standards-based Category 6A cable, HDBaseT allows distribution distances that exceed the typical limits of legacy cables such as HDMI, VGA and USB.

Business today is truly global and the need to bring together employees and customers from different offices and countries is essential to being competitive and efficient in the marketplace. Allowing them to work together in real-time can boost productivity, minimise errors and streamline processes. Professional AV solutions are an essential part of this collaboration. As the trend toward a global and increasingly mobile workforce continues, professional audio visual solutions allow employees and customers to communicate more effectively and efficiently. From collaboration to conferencing, the latest technologies are bringing employees and customers closer together.

Technical Expertise

When it comes to the infrastructure knowledge needed to run an IP audio visual system, Wesco Anixter has the expertise to support you. From pioneering the specifications that became the category standards to sitting on industry standards committees, Wesco Anixter has the knowledge to help specify products and technologies for entire analog and IP AV systems. Through our online educational courses, partnerships with leading manufacturers and experts with deep technical knowledge on staff. We can help integrators educate end-users on system complexity, cost and flexibility.

Complete Solution

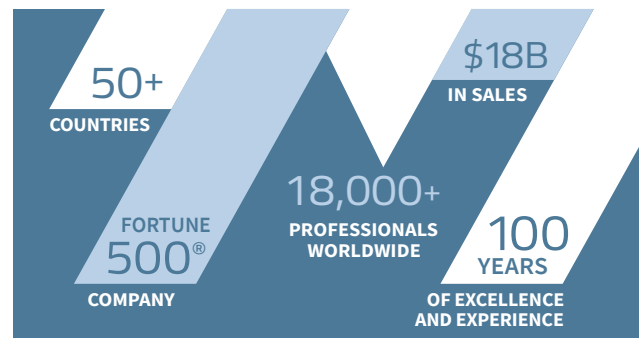

Wesco Anixter offers a full suite of pro AV solutions from the AV components to the racks, patch panels and cable—to deliver the products and services your customers want.
