

Data Centre Solutions

Delivering value at every phase of data centre development and operations

Data centres are facing more competition and more pressure, creating a challenging business environment. As increased application usage, 5G expansion and global digitalisation place greater demand on your facilities, continuous, uninterrupted operations are critical to your business and your productivity.

Whether you operate a multi-tenant data centre, work exclusively within edge environments, require a single point of distribution for your hyperscale, or have new enterprise facility needs around the globe, Wesco Anixter can help. Our relationships with best-in-class supplier partners, contractors and integrators enhance our expertise in data centre development, deployment and management. And with our global footprint, we can help ensure the reliability of your facilities throughout their life cycle, wherever they are.

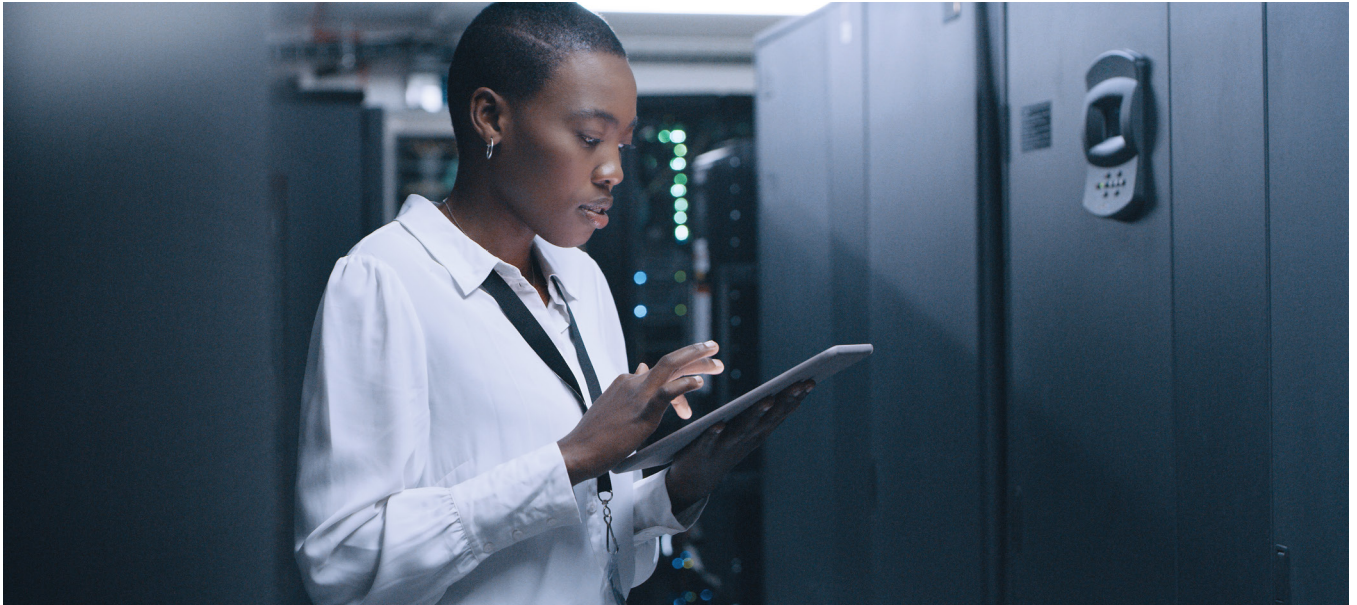

Wesco Anixter data centre areas of expertise:

- Comprehensive end-to-end data centre life cycle management
- Global services, solutions, capabilities and offerings
- Expansive product and solutions portfolio and scope
- Focused expertise and data centre disciplines

We address the unique requirements businesses have at every active stage of your data centre's life cycle, from pre-construction through operations. We can help you plan and design your facility, better identify products, direct your supply chain efficiently, ensure fast deployment, reduce risk, manage your operations, and save money and time — so you can focus on growing your business.

Expertise Wherever You Operate

- 20,000 global employees
- 5,000+ sales professionals
- 50+ countries
- 35+ currencies
- 30+ languages
- Approximately 150,000 customers
- Nearly 1.5 million products from 50,000 suppliers – for industry-leading solution depth and breadth

Consolidating the right products, services and solutions takes time and focus away from delivering on business-critical needs and customer demands. As your partner, Wesco Anixter can help you:

- Be more flexible and scalable to stay competitive
- Expedite product ordering and delivery so you can react quickly
- Access top equipment and pricing for better cost-efficiency
- Maintain uptime without sacrificing performance or quality
- Reliably provide the best service at the best price
